Summary

I had an exciting journey in my life time. True, I have not experienced the exciting adventures of Kingsley Holgate and I can unfortunately not claim to have visited every country on the Continent of Africa in a Land Rover like he did - lucky him! I have however travelled widely and have visited a number of European Countries as well as Russia. All of these Countries were an experience I would not have wanted to miss at all, but my heart always warmed when I returned to my own beautiful country, sunny South Africa with its breath taking scenery and warm and friendly people. I read voraciously (sometimes a novel a day (if it is not more than 50 000 words mind you!) and prefer relaxing with a novel rather than watching television or going to the movies. When I do watch television I like to watch programs relating to interior decorating, but also indulge my love for antiques by watching BBC programs like The Antiques Road Show, Bargain Hunting and Cash in the Attic. Returning to my favourite past time, Biographies of interesting people from modern times as well as history also interest me greatly and I could get no greater gift in my life than when I was presented by my husband with a Kindle as well as a Kobo e-reader. Now my access to books are almost unlimited and the wonderful person who presented me with the e-readers in the first place sometimes has to remind me that I also need to spend more time with him! I could indulge my creative side and my love for books when I published my first novel (a historical romance) through LAPA which is a well established and recognised Publisher in South Africa. I am now outlining a contemporary romance for the wider international reading public. The PSA granted me the opportunity to hone my skills not only as a negotiator and writer of articles, news letters and press releases but also as a copy editor. I am now able to utilise those skills in a website design company (Webscripto). Please visit us at webscripto.co.za.

Public Servants Association (PSA)

Negotiator

November 1994 - July 2015 (20 years 9 months)

The PSA is the second largest Trade Union in the SA Public Service. I was amongst others responsible for negotiating terms and conditions of employment for our members and networking with other Labour unions from the Federation of Cosatu as well as non-politically aligned unions. Some of my other responsibilities were copyediting, writing and communicating to members through News Letters (Informus) and the PSA Magazine on how we met their expectations in the Bargaining Councils and protected and promoted their rights and interests. I also drafted Media Statements. This strengthened the brand of the PSA and communicated and strengthened their values as a Union. I was also responsible for the editing of News Letters and articles and writing the content. I did this job for more than 20 years and received a certificate for 20 years of loyal service to the union from the General Manager of the union.

LAPA

Published Author

2009 - 2009 (1 year)

I am a published author of a Historical Romance which I wrote in my home language of Afrikaans and which was accepted by LAPA the first time I submitted it for publication. The novel sold out very quickly. Apart from my freelance activities for Webscripto, I am still writing and I am currently in the process of outlining a contemporary romance novel which I am aiming to publish in English internationally.

Public Service

Office of the Public Service Commission

November 1986 - October 1994 (8 years)

I wrote submissions relating to terms and conditions of employment.
